Master Teacher Award

The Master Teacher awards were established in 1954 by Emporia State University (then Kansas State Teachers College). The awards are presented annually to teachers who have served the profession long and well, and who also typify the good qualities of earnest and conscientious teachers.

The Kansas Master Teacher program was originated in the early 1950s and was developed by the University Administrative Council. Dr. Everett Rich, former chairperson of the English department and a council member, was the driving force behind the program.

The program was first discussed in 1952. Because of the illness and subsequent death of President David L. MacFarlane Jan. 3, 1953, nothing was done until the following year. In 1954, with the support of Dr. Don Davis, chairperson of the division of education, and the approval of new president John E. King, the first awards were made.

A number of faculty members and others were involved in establishing policies and procedures. Davis added "Kansas" to the name. Rich had suggested "distinguished," but that word was changed to "master." Ray Cremer, business manager, suggested a money award for the recipients, but King believed watches were more appropriate so the watches were awarded. C.O. Wright, executive secretary of the Kansas State Teachers Association, was responsible for the suggestion that nominations be made by local teacher associations or similar educational groups. Rich was responsible for the publicity the awards received across the state.

Candidates for the awards are nominated by local teacher associations and school faculties. In early March, a committee selects the winners. The committee members represent educational organizations from across Kansas.

The 1985 selection committee included: Fern Wood, Cherryvale, president of the Kansas division of the American Association of University Women; Ernie Goerend, Salina, vice-president of the Kansas Congress of Parents and Teachers; Warren Bell, Lawrence, director of state and federal programs administration, Kansas Department of Education; Nancy Lindberg, Topeka, president of the Kansas-National Education Association; Donald Herbel, Lawrence, president of the United School Administrators; Dr. Leonard Chaffee, Wichita, president of the Kansas Association of Colleges of Teacher Education; Jacque Oakes, Yates Center, president of the Kansas Association of School Boards; and Florence Gatsche, Manhattan, president of the Student-Kansas National Education Association from Kansas State University.

A committee of Emporia State faculty and administrators is in charge of local arrangements. This committee includes: Dr. Robert Glennen, Dr. Jim Meyer, Dr. Jack Skillett, Dr. Judy Hample, Dr. J.W. Brinkman, Dr. Virginia Moxley, Dr.

Stuart Ervay, Dave Eldridge, Paul Kincaid, Marjorie Schmidt, and Dr. Daryl Berry, chairperson.

The committee is grateful for the cooperation of the Endowment Association, Alumni Association, Butcher Children's Laboratory School, Kappa Delta Pi, Student NEA, conferences and special events office, office of photographic services, and Memorial Union dining service in connection with the Master Teacher award program.

Emporia State University and the Master Teacher program are also grateful to Emporia's Citizens National Bank and Trust Co. and Mrs. Marea Black of Broken Bow, Okla. In 1980, Citizens Bank pledged $50,000 to permanently endow the Master Teacher award program. In 1984, Mrs. Black established the William A. Black Kansas Master Teacher Endowed Chair in memory of her husband. More information about the Black Endowed Chair can be found in this program.

William A. Black Kansas Master Teacher Endowed Chair

In 1984, the Black family of Broken Bow, Okla., established an endowed chair for Kansas Master Teachers. Each year, this permanently endowed fund will provide the salary for a Kansas Master Teacher to spend a summer, semester, or entire academic year at Emporia State University.

The Master Teacher selected will teach classes and work with students who plan careers in education. The endowed chair will provide a valuable experience for Emporia State students and a meaningful opportunity for Master Teachers.

The William A. Black Kansas Master Teacher Endowed Chair was established by Marea Belfield Black to honor the Black family's lifelong dedication to public education. The endowed chair is named for her husband, Dr. William A. Black.

The late Dr. William Albert Black (shown above) was born Nov. 25, 1897 in Green County in Missouri. He received his bachelor's degree in 1926 and his master's degree in 1934 from Emporia State University. He received his Ph.D. degree in philosophy, education and psychology from the University of Colorado.

Black was nationally known for establishing junior colleges and for his work in school finance and curricula.

During his career, he served as president of the Pueblo (Colo.) Junior College, director of junior colleges and curriculum for the state of Washington, and head of the department of education and psychology at Pittsburg State University. In 1962, while at Pittsburg State, he received the Kansas Master Teacher award.

Black married Marea Belfield Nov. 7, 1920. The Blacks' son, William Vincent Black, was born March 31, 1922. The family moved to Broken Bow March 1, 1973. Dr. Black died in Oct. 12, 1983.

Emporia State University is deeply grateful to Mrs. Black and the Black family for this generous contribution.

Bob Anderson

Manhattan

Since 1971, Bob Anderson has been principal of Marlatt Elementary School in Manhattan. He was principal and sixth grade teacher at Eugene Field Elementary School in Manhattan from 1953-71.

Anderson, an Osage City native, was graduated from Osage City High School. He received his B.A. degree from the College of Emporia in 1950 and his M.S. degree in 1954 from Emporia State University.

In 1976, Anderson was named Kansas Principal of the Year. He also won the Outstanding Service Award from the National Association of Elementary School Principals in 1978 and 1984.

Anderson is active in several professional organizations, including the National Education Association, the Kansas Association of Elementary School Principals, and Phi Delta Kappa. In 1982-83, as president of the National Association of Elementary School Principals, Anderson made three trips to the White House, met with President Ronald Reagan about educational issues, appeared on ABC-TV's "Good Morning, America," and made speeches around the country on behalf of education.

In the community, Anderson is active in the Chamber of Commerce, First Presbyterian Church, and the Kansas State University Booster Club.

"My philosophy of education through the years has been brief but constant," said Anderson. "Each child is entitled to a sound basic program of instruction which recognizes the unique needs and differences for each individual child. Children are entitled to a caring teacher who brings each child to a realization of self-worth and importance.

"Students need to know that learning is an ongoing process as they go through life. I want them to be aware of and sensitive to the arts. Education is not only designed to help people make a living, but it is equally important to help them know how to enjoy living."

Ken Carothers

Wellington

Ken Carothers has taught fourth and fifth grades at Kennedy Grade School in Wellington since 1980. From 1975-80, he taught third grade at Bickerdyke Grade School in Russell. He taught and coached for Gorham schools from 1971-74.

A Larned native, Carothers was graduated from Kinsley High School. He received his B.S. degree from Central Bible College in 1969 and his M.A. degree from Fort Hays State University in 1971. From 1981-84, he took additional courses at Wichita State University.

During his career, Carothers has been active in the local chapters of the National Education Association. In Russell, he served as president, professional negotiations spokesperson, and state delegate. In Wellington, he has served as president, state delegate, a member of the salary commission, and a member of the constitution commission.

Carothers received a certificate for service from the South Central Kansas-National Education Association.

In the community, Carothers is a member of the Assembly of God Church, having provided leadership in a number of ways over the years. He is also active in 4-H, having received a certificate of recognition for six years of service as a Kansas 4-H leader.

"I am convinced that teaching is one of the most important and demanding jobs known," Carothers said. "Each day we work with our most important resources — the minds and lives of our young people. These young people are the futures of our country. We must do our job well as we shape our students' futures and our own future through them.

"I believe that every student has the right to learn and that every teacher has the right to teach. I expect only one thing from students — their best."

Thomas Fowler

Emporia

Thomas Fowler has been a Spanish teacher and head of the foreign languages department at Emporia High School since 1970.

From 1968-70, he taught at Pratt Community College, and from 1966-68, he taught at both Pratt Community College and Pratt High School. From 1963-66, he taught at Peabody High School.

Fowler is an Emporia native, having graduated from Emporia High School. He received his B.S.E. degree in 1963 and his M.S. degree in 1966 from Emporia State University. He has also done post-graduate work at Emporia State.

Professionally, Fowler is active in the Kansas-National Education Association, the National Education Association, the Emporia-National Education Association, the Kansas Foreign Languages Association, and Phi Delta Kappa.

In the community, Fowler is active in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church, having served as a deacon, elder, and Sunday School superintendent. He is active in the Emporia Masonic Lodge #12 and Miriam Chapter #14 Order of Eastern Star, as well as the Lyon County 4-H Council and the Logan Avenue 4-H Club. Fowler has received two special awards for his work with 4-H. Fowler is also a member of the Emporia Parent-Teacher Association.

While other school districts have experienced a decline in enrollment in foreign languages, Emporia High School, under Fowler's leadership, has expanded its offerings because of student interest. Fowler's Spanish classes are always full.

"My goal," he said, "is not to turn students off in class. I want every student to feel comfortable. I tease them, I joke with them, and I listen to them. Everything is positive."

Charlotte McDonald

Olathe

Charlotte McDonald has been the fifth grade teacher at Morse Elementary School in Olathe since 1980. Morse School is part of the Blue Valley School District. From 1977-80, she taught fifth grade at Stanley Elementary School, also part of the Blue Valley District.

A Wichita native, McDonald was graduated from Wichita Heights High School. She received her B.S. degree in 1977 and her M.S. degree in 1982 from the University of Kansas.

This year, McDonald was nominated for the Excellence in Teaching Award, which is sponsored by the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, the Learning Exchange, and the Kansas City Star. She was named to Outstanding Young Women of America in 1984. In 1983, she was nominated for the Morse Elementary School Master Teacher Award and she won an award from the Learning Exchange for a science lesson. In 1981, McDonald was a University of Kansas educator-in-residence.

McDonald is active in a number of professional organizations, including the Blue Valley Teachers Association, the Kansas-National Education Association, and the National Education Association.

She also holds memberships in the National Audubon Society, the Burroughs Audubon Society, the National Wildlife Federation, the United Methodist Church, Phi Delta Kappa, the Olathe Running Club, and the Morse Elementary School Parent-Teacher Organization.

"Seeing children elicit interest about learning is my daily goal," said McDonald. "Motivating students by providing opportunities to solve problems and the setting to explore ways to learn is how I approach each lesson. When a child is able to discover for himself or herself, the child experiences a sense of ownership. This process of teaching helps me to achieve my overall goal and that is helping a child learn how to think and reason."

Lana Scrimsher Oleen

Manhattan

Lana Scrimsher Oleen is an English and speech/drama teacher at St. George High School, where she has taught since 1978. She teaches general English for grades 10-12, honors English for grades 11-12, remedial English, and speech/drama.

Prior to joining the faculty of St. George High School, Oleen taught at Council Grove High School from 1972-74, at Dover High School in 1975-76, and at Leroy High School in 1976-77.

A native of Kirksville, Mo., Oleen was graduated from Topeka West High School. She received her B.S.E. degree in 1972 and her M.S. degree in 1977 from Emporia State University.

Oleen is a member of several professional organizations, including the National Council for Teachers of English, the Kansas Association for Teachers of English, the Kansas Speech Communication Association, the National Education Association, the Kansas-National Education Association, and the West Pottawatomie Teachers Association. In the community, Oleen is active in the Peace Lutheran Church, the Riley County Crisis Center, the Manhattan Arts Council, the Friends of the Sunset Zoo, the League of Women Voters, University for Man, and the Manhattan La Leche League.

Oleen is a 1985 nominee for the Administrator's Outstanding Educator award. In 1984, she was a finalist for a National Endowment for the Humanities award.

"Self-image is self-worth: what an opportunity I have to enhance young people's realization of themselves," said Oleen. "My teaching philosophy is to challenge my students' energies, to stimulate their minds in learning the basics and aesthetics of life, and to recognize their strengths in order to capitalize on positive self-image. Books provide order, but a teacher provides avenues; I strive to meet my philosophy because I regard it on a daily-challenge basis."

Barbara Shinkle

Pratt

Barbara Shinkle teaches kindergarten at Haskins Elementary School in Pratt. She has been at Haskins since 1972, having taught first grade in 1972-73 and kindergarten since 1973.

In 1971-72, she taught first grade at North Elementary School in Pratt, and in 1970-71, she taught for Handicapped Day Care in Pratt. From 1971-81, she was also a private tutor for math and reading, and from 1977-81, she was a part-time reading and math instructor for St. Mary of the Plains College.

An Independence native, Shinkle was graduated from Longton High School. She received her B.S. degree in 1971 and her M.S. degree in 1973 from Northwestern Oklahoma State University in Alva. Shinkle has taken post-graduate work at Fort Hays State University, Pittsburg State University, Kansas State University, and the University of Kansas.

In 1984, Shinkle was named the Teacher of the Year for U.S.D. #382 in Pratt. In 1979, she received the Distinguished Woman Award from the Pratt Jaycees. She is serving as the 1984-85 president of the Pratt-National Education Association.

Shinkle is active in several professional organizations, including the Kansas-National Education Association, the American Association of University Women, the Pratt Community Concert Association, the Modern Literature Book Club, and the Pratt Art Association.

In the community, Shinkle is active in the First Methodist Church, the Pratt Music Club, Grace Notes, Parents and Children Together, and Delta Kappa Gamma.

Shinkle's teaching philosophy is to help each student develop a positive self-worth. She helps the children learn to trust each other and to give and receive love.

Sharon Willis

McPherson

Sharon Willis is the music teacher for Lincoln Elementary School in McPherson, a position she has held since 1977.

In addition to teaching at Lincoln Elementary School, Willis is the children's choir director for the First United Methodist Church and director of the McPherson Arts Council Community Children's Choir.

In 1974-75, she taught full-time at St. Joseph Elementary School in Hays and part-time at Barton County Community College.

A Larned native, Willis was graduated from Macksville High School. She received her B.M.E. degree in 1973 and her M.M.E. degree in 1975 from Fort Hays State University.

Willis is a member of several professional organizations, including the National Education Association, the Music Educators National Conference, the Kansas Music Educators Association, and the American Choral Directors Association.

Willis is listed in Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities. She received a Commissioned Artist Print from the McPherson Arts Council in special recognition for her outstanding work for the council. She also received a special recognition award from the McPherson Optimist Club for work with youth.

"I believe that music is an intellectual discipline as well as an art," said Willis. "As an intellectual discipline, it must be taught in a sequential academic fashion, much as other subjects in the curriculum. As an art, it must be taught with aesthetic experiences foremost in mind.

"My philosophy is to present music to every child according to his or her interests and abilities in order to further the child's personal, academic, cultural, and spiritual growth, thus helping the student become a more aesthetically responsive member of society."
